Date of his birth

Steuben County, N.Y. On the first day of January in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and thirty three, personally appeared before Parole C. Cook Esquire of the Village of ~~the~~ of the town of Lanesville, ~~the~~ of the said County of Steuben, ~~born~~ James, a resident of the town of Lanesville in the County and State aforesaid, aged seventy years on the first day of April last past, who being first duly sworn according to law, doth on his oath make the following declaration, in order to obtain benefit of the act of Congress passed June 7, 1832 & the compensation of the Revolutionary era, his father resided with his family on the head waters of the Shellsquah Creek in the county of Northumberland and State of Pennsylvania, about a mile and a half south of the Indian path leading from Murray Creek; his father purchased for each of his sons (five) a flintlock rifle, and encouraged them to hunt for the purpose of becoming expert in the use of arms, and of becoming acquainted with the Indians in that vicinity; in June 1777, his house was converted into a garrison, that is it was garrisoned by Indians & party, especially at a time when Indians were constantly visiting the neighborhood, the Indians with their families came to the latter part of the summer to hunt for game, and to trade with the Indians, and had no skirmishes. In June 1778, he enlisted as a ranger or Indian spy under Col. James Murray who had command of those forces in that section of Northumberland County, he immediately commenced duty reconnoitering the Indian path from Murray to Goshen Creek, a distance of about twenty five miles, and was constantly engaged in that service for about eleven months, where he had permission from Col. Murray to return home, he was absent from service about three months, he then returned, and continued on in the same duty for about a year and five months until this time in January 1781, during this time they did not meet with any Indians excepting once, when he saw an Indian on horse back, carrying a piece of venison, he pursued, and the Indian threw down the venison and escaped very fast, on his way home after he had been discharged, he and his brother were arrested by an men belonging to a regiment commanded by Col John Whittle, on the ground that they were deserters, they detained his brother as hostage, and also his arms and equipments, and suffered him to go, he went to Clarkbury and saw Col Murray and Lieutenant Col. Jas.

Ham Hunter; he received from the former a certificate which he has long since lost, stating that he and his brother had been faithful for two years and four months, with which he returned to his brother and got him discharged. In the month of October 1781 he enlisted at the City of Lancaster for three months as a private soldier for one William Dawyer, in a Regiment of Pennsylvania Militia in a company of which the officers were Captain Rossig and Lieutenant Barnard, all the other officers in the regiment now recollect are Col. George Wolf, Major Coffey, Keaty, and Captain Billings, Allen and Scott; the regiment marched from Lancaster through Downingtown, and through Brandy wine Chester Counties, with the purpose of going to New York City, but for some cause which he did not understand, they stopped at a place called Stone Lane's End, and after remaining there several days they returned to Lancaster, where he was discharged, having served about one month. The foregoing is the best account which he can give of his services, as his memory has been very much impaired by a disease which he has suffered ever since his return from the army, and he can hardly remember the day or month of his entry or discharge, nor can he recollect the name of the place. He was born April 15, 1762, at York, Lancaster County, Pa. There is no record of his birth in a book belonging to his father, which he supposes to be the reason why he does not know exactly to be in Pennsylvania. He continued to reside on the backwaters of the Schuylkill until 1793, when he removed to Goshen, now Washington County, Pa. He resided there till 1822, when he removed to his present residence and has resided there ever since. He never had a discharge or other documentary evidence of his service, except that above mentioned, nor is there any person living to his knowledge by whom his service can be proved. An af-fendant made a sworn affidavit before ^{On the 10th of} C. Cleveland Esq. by his brother James Haynes since deceased, was forwarded to Washington shortly after it was made for the purpose applying for a pension, and he cannot learn where it is now. The affidavit states that he is known in his present neighborhood, who can testify to his character for veracity and their belief of his service as a soldier of the revolution. There is no clergyman in his neighborhood who would be qualified to give any affidavit in his behalf. He has submitted his claim to a pension or annuity except the present, & declares that his name is not on the pension rolls of the agency of any state.

Sir:

The evidence in support of your claim, under the act of June 7, 1832, has been examined, and the papers are herewith returned. The following is a statement of your case in a tabular form. On comparing these papers with the following rules and the subjoined notes you will readily perceive that objections exist, which must be removed, before a pension can be allowed. The notes and the regulations will shew what is necessary to be done. Those points to which your attention is more particularly directed, you will find marked in the margin with a brace, (thus: {). You will, when you return your papers to this Department, send this printed letter with them; and you will, by complying with this request, greatly facilitate the investigation of your claim.

The Quartermaster General
Memorial Branch
War Department
Washington, D.C.

Dear Sir:

Reference is made to your request for information in regard to David Haynes, Indian Spy and Ranger in the War of the Revolution, Pennsylvania militia, and later moved to Jackson County, Michigan.

The data which follow were obtained from the papers on file in pension claim, S. 8652, based upon the Revolutionary War service of David Haynes.

David Haynes was born April 13, 1783 in Paxton, Lancaster County, Pennsylvania, names of his parents not shown.

While residing with his father and family on the headwaters of Chillisquaque Creek in Northumberland County, Pennsylvania, his father's house in June, 1777 was converted into a garrison and a company of militia under Captain John Chatham and Lieutenant Fulton was stationed there. David Haynes served in this year as a pilot through this section against the Indians. He enlisted in June, 1778, was an Indian Spy and Ranger in Captain John Chatham's company, Colonel John Murray's Pennsylvania regiment, continued in this service until in January, 1781, at various times in all amounting to two years and four months. He enlisted in Lancaster, Pennsylvania, in October, 1781, served one month in Captain Bradley's company, Colonel George Ross' Pennsylvania regiment.

David Haynes continued to reside in Northumberland County, until in 1793, when he moved to Livingston County,

Concluded

New York and from there in 1822, moved to Danville, Steuben County, New York.

David Haynes was allowed pension on his application executed January 3, 1833, then a resident of Danville, New York.

He had moved in 1837 to Michigan to live with his children, their names not designated; his address at this time was Brooklyn P. O., Jackson County, Town of Napoleon, Michigan.

James E. Haynes in 1837 was living in Jackson County, Michigan, it is not shown that he was related to the soldier.

The soldier had four brothers, who were all residing with their father during the Revolution on the headwaters of Chillisquaque Creek, only name stated was James Haynes, who in 1826 was a resident of Ossian, Allegany County, New York, he was referred to in 1828 as deceased.

The application for headstone for David Haynes and a copy of a letter addressed to Mrs. Ethel A. Sagendorph of Jackson County, Michigan, signed Vivian Lyon Hoar, are both returned herewith.

Very truly yours

A. D. BILLING
